We do not disclose information about identifiable individuals to our advertisers, but we may provide them with aggregate information about our users (for example, we may inform them that 500 men aged under 30 have clicked on their advertisement on any given day). We may also use such aggregate information to help advertisers reach the kind of audience they want to target (for example, women in SW1). We may make use of the personal data we have collected from you to enable us to comply with our advertisers' wishes by displaying their advertisement to that target audience.

REMARKETING POLICY

We may remarket your information. Remarketing is a way for us to connect with users, based upon your past interactions with the www.ignite.co.uk website. Third-party marketing vendors may be hired by Ignite to perform remarketing services. As a result, third-party vendors, including Google, may show Ignite ads on sites on the internet. Third-party vendors, including Google, use cookies to serve ads based on a user's prior visits to www.ignite.co.uk website.

To opt out of customised Google Display Network ads click here. To find out more about how Google uses any data it collects please visit http://www.google.com/privacy_ads.html.

Any information collected is used only for remarketing purposes and will not be used by them for any other purpose.

DISCLOSURE OF YOUR INFORMATION

We will not disclose personally-identifiable information about you to others except as disclosed in this Use of Website Policy or as authorised by you when the information is collected. We may disclose your personal information to any member of our group, which means our subsidiaries, our ultimate holding company and its subsidiaries, as defined in section 736 of the UK Companies Act 1985, including our mail-order catalogue, and online operations in order to send you information that you request, to cater to your shopping preferences, and to extend offers that we believe may be of interest to you.

We may disclose your personal information to third parties:

In the event that we sell or buy any business or assets, in which case we may disclose your personal data to the prospective seller or buyer of such business or assets.

If Ignite or substantially all of its assets are acquired by a third party, in which case personal data held by it about its customers will be one of the transferred assets.

If we are under a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation, or in order to enforce or apply our terms of use and other agreements; or to protect the rights, property, or safety of Ignite, our customers, or others. This includes exchanging information with other companies and organisations for the purposes of fraud protection and credit risk reduction.

We contract with other companies to fulfil your order and provide the specific products or services to you. For example, we use outside suppliers; a credit card processing company when you make a purchase with a credit card; an outside shipping company to ship orders; and we use outside service providers to host our site. These third parties are provided with only the information that they need to perform their functions and are not permitted to use or disclose your personally-identifiable information for other purposes without your authorisation.

If you shop through our catalogue or via our site and positively opt in, we may share your name and mailing address (but not your email address or telephone number) for external direct mail campaigns conducted by companies or organisations which offer products or services we believe may be of interest to our customers.

YOUR RIGHTS

At any point while we are in possession of or processing your personal data, you, the data subject, have the following rights:

- Right of access - you have the right to request a copy of the information that we hold about you.
- Right of rectification - you have a right to correct data that we hold about you that is inaccurate or incomplete.
- Right to be forgotten - in certain circumstances you can ask for the data we hold about you to be erased from our records.
- Right to restriction of processing - where certain conditions apply to have a right to restrict the processing.
- Right of portability - you have the right to have the data we hold about you transferred to another organisation.
- Right to object - you have the right to object to certain types of processing such as direct marketing.
- Right to object to automated processing, including profiling - you also have the right to be subject to the legal effects of automated processing or profiling.
- Right to judicial review: in the event that Ignite refuses your request under rights of access, we will provide you with a reason as to why. You have the right to complain as outlined below.

All of the above requests will be forwarded on should there be a third party in the processing of your personal data.

Our site may, from time to time, contain links to and from the websites of our partner networks, advertisers and affiliates. If you follow a link to any of these websites, please note that these websites have their own privacy policies and that we do not accept any responsibility or liability for these policies. Please check these policies before you submit any personal data to these websites.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

The Act gives you the right to access information held about you. Your right of access can be exercised in accordance with the Act. Although in accordance with the regulation we will not normally charge for these requests, we may do so if these requests are repetitive, excessive or considered malicious in nature.

Access to your data will only be provided to yourself or a duly authorized representative. Prior to any disclosure, you will be required to provide ID to prove your identity. You will be notified of the ID required when you make any request.

SECURITY

We have numerous safeguards in place to reasonably and adequately protect personally-identifiable information.

Our databases are protected by physical, technical, and procedural measures that restrict information access to authorised persons in accordance with this Use of Website Policy. Our information systems are maintained behind a software firewall to isolate them from access by other networks connected to the Internet. Only employees who need the information to perform a specific job are granted access to personally identifiable information. Our employees are kept up to date on our security and privacy practices.

Any credit card or personally identifying information divulged to us via our site will be stored on secure servers and not released to any other party without your explicit written authorisation unless as expressly provided in this Use of Website Policy. Once you enter a credit card number, we will never display the entire card number if the page is recalled after you have submitted it. This also applies to the use of the “Back” button on your browser. The middle digits will be displayed as asterisks, protecting your card number from other users of your computer or anyone who happens to see the screen.

Pages on our site that request payment information are protected using SSL (Secure Socket Layer) security, which encrypts any data transmitted. Information passed between your computer and our site cannot be read in the event that someone else intercepts it.

You are responsible for keeping your password to access our site confidential and should never share your password with anyone. We recommend that you your password frequently. After you have finished using our site, you should log out and exit your browser to prevent unauthorised users from returning to your online account. If you believe that someone has improperly used information about you or has made purchases that you did not authorise, please contact us immediately.

CONSENT

By consenting to this privacy notice you are giving us permission to process your personal data specifically for the purposes identified.

Consent is required for Ignite to process both types of personal data, but it must be explicitly given for sensitive personal information. Where we are asking you for sensitive personal data we will always tell you why and how the information will be used.

You may withdraw consent at any time by emailing the data protections representative email: infosec@ignite.co.uk

RETENTION PERIOD

Ignite will retain personal data only for as long as is necessary for the purpose outlined in this policy.

When it is no longer necessary to keep personal data, we will delete it as outlined in our data retention policy. This can be requested from the data protection representative by emailing infosec@ignite.co.uk

In Summary your data will be retained as follows;

- Client data - retained for as long as a customer and minimum of two years thereafter.
- Client data, such as financial, will be retained as long as it is necessary to meet legal obligations
- CV - if unsuccessful, minimum of 6 months, maximum of 1 year
- Prospective clients - retained while contact is maintained, deleted on request or two years post any contact.
- Promotional - if you subscribe to receive any promotional material from us, we will retain your information until you withdraw consent.
